Additional notes

Women can access abortion up to 12 weeks of gestation in cases where they consider that the pregnancy causes them psychological problems.

The following descriptions and recommendations were extracted from WHO guidance on safe abortion.

Physical health is widely understood to include conditions that aggravate pregnancy and those aggravated by pregnancy. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.1.2.

- Source document: WHO Safe Abortion Guidance (page 102)

The fulfillment of human rights requires that women can access safe abortion when it is indicated to protect their health. WHO defines health for member states as a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.1.2.

- Law Nr. 8045 “On The Interruption of Pregnancy” (page 6)

Number and cadre of health-care professional authorizations required

3

Doctor (Specialty Not Specified)

The number and cadre of professionals authorizing an abortion depends on the ground on which an abortion is sought. For abortions after 12 weeks and for medical reasons, the authorization of three doctors is needed. For abortions in case of rape/sexual crime below 22 weeks of gestation, the authorization of a doctor, a social worker and a jurist is needed.

The following descriptions and recommendations were extracted from WHO guidance on safe abortion.

Third-party authorization should not be required for women to obtain abortion services. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.2.

- Source document: WHO Safe Abortion Guidance (page 105)

Laws, policies and practices that restrict access to abortion information and services can deter women from care seeking and create a “chilling effect” (suppression of actions because of fear of reprisals or penalties) for the provision of safe, legal services. Examples of barriers include: requiring third-party authorization from one or more medical professionals or a hospital committee, court or police, parent or guardian or a woman’s partner or spouse. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.2

In situations where abortion is restricted for sex selection purposes, terminating a pregnancy for this reason is likely to involve an unsafe procedure carrying high risks. Any policies or guidelines on the use of technology in obstetric and fetal medicine should take into account the need to ensure women’s access to safe abortion and other services - efforts to manage or limit sex selection should also not hamper or limit access to safe abortion services. WHO Guidance

Vacuum aspiration is the recommended technique of surgical abortion for pregnancies of up to 12 to 14 weeks of gestation. The procedure should not be routinely completed by dilatation and sharp curettage (D&C).

Dilatation and evacuation (D&E) and medical methods (mifepristone and misoprostol; misoprostol alone) are both recommended methods for abortion for gestations over 12 to 14 weeks.

The recommended method for medical abortion is mifepristone followed by misoprostol (regimen differs by gestational age).

Where mifepristone is not available, the recommended method for medical abortion is misoprostol (regimen differs by gestational age).
