Authorization of health professional(s)

Varies by jurisdiction

Where policies or laws vary by jurisdiction, this is noted with an accompanying note and no interpretation is made.

WHO Guidance

The following descriptions and recommendations were extracted from WHO guidance on safe abortion.

Third-party authorization should not be required for women to obtain abortion services. The requirement for authorization by hospital authorities may violate the right to privacy and women's access to health care on the basis of equality of men and women. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.2.2.

Authorization in specially licensed facilities only

Varies by jurisdiction

Where policies or laws vary by jurisdiction, this is noted with an accompanying note and no interpretation is made.

WHO Guidance

The following descriptions and recommendations were extracted from WHO guidance on safe abortion.

Restrictions on the range of providers or facilities that are authorized to provide abortion reduce the availability of services and their equitable geographic distribution. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.2.4.

Judicial authorization in cases of rape

Varies by jurisdiction

Where policies or laws vary by jurisdiction, this is noted with an accompanying note and no interpretation is made.

WHO Guidance

The following descriptions and recommendations were extracted from WHO guidance on safe abortion.

Laws, policies and practices that restrict access to abortion information and services can deter women from care seeking and create a “chilling effect” (suppression of actions because of fear of reprisals or penalties) for the provision of safe, legal services. Examples of barriers include: requiring third-party authorization from one or more medical professionals or a hospital committee, court or police, parent or guardian or a woman's partner or spouse. Safe Abortion Guidelines, § 4.2.2.
